How you can save

The exact dollar value of your many IEA resources and supports – including career development, legal coverage or public advocacy – may not be quantifiable ... but the money you save using your member benefits is.

Take a look at how two IEA members, Tim and Jessica, make up the cost of their IEA dues and much more by taking advantage of discount programs and purchases, and credit card rewards. Tim teaches fifth grade. Jessica is a bus driver.

They each drive American-made cars, insured at IEA preferred rates. Jessica owns a modest home, also insured at a preferred rate. They receive discounts on most of their everyday purchases and earn cash back on those purchases by using NEA® Cash Rewards credit cards.

Tim and Jessica turn their IEA-NEA dues into real savings! Here's how it all stacks up:

| | Amount saved per year | |
|---|-----------------------|---------------------|
| | Tim | Jessica |
| Insurance | $250 (auto) | $400 (home & auto) |
| Purchases | | |
| Food (including grocery store and restaurant) | $500 | $720 |
| Everyday needs & services (clothing, home improvement and auto oil change) | $200 | $360 |
| Entertainment | $300 | $190 |
| Travel | $400 | $330 |
| Cash back from Cash Rewards credit card | $350 | $300 |
| | | |
| Total savings | $2,000 | $2,300 |
| IEA-NEA dues cost | $661 | $366.50 |
| In-pocket savings (total savings in one year minus dues cost) | $1,339 | $1,933.50 |
